CHAPTER XXIV.

A WEEK later Catrina, watching from the window of her own small room, saw Paul lift Etta from the sleigh, and the slight made her clench her hands until the knuckles shone like polished ivory.

She went slowly downstairs to the long, dimly lighted drawing room. As she entered she heard her mother's cackling voice.

"Yes, princess," the countess was saying, "it is a quaint old house—little more than a fortified farm, I know. But my husband's family were always strange. They seem always to have ignored the little comforts and elegancies of life."

"It is most interesting," answered Etta's voice, and Catrina stepped forward into the light.

Formal greetings were exchanged, and Catrina saw Etta look anxiously toward the door through which she had just come. She thought that she was looking for her husband. But it was Claude de Chauville for whose appearance Etta was waiting.

Paul and Steinmetz entered at the same moment by another door, and Catrina, who was talking to Maggie in English, suddenly stopped.

"Ah, Catrina," said Paul, "we have broken new ground for you. There was no track from here to Osterno through the forest. I made one this afternoon, so you have no excuse for remaining away now."

"Thank you," answered Catrina, withdrawing her cold hand hurriedly from his friendly grasp.

"Miss Dehafield," went on Paul, "admires our country as much as you do." "I was just telling mademoiselle," said Maggie, speaking French with an honest English accent.

Paul added and left them together. "Yes," the countess was saying at the other end of the gloomy room, "yes, we are greatly attached to Thors—Catrina perhaps more than I. I have some happy associations and many sorrowful ones. But then—mon Dieu—how isolated we are!"

"It is rather far from—anywhere," accented Etta, who was not attending, although she appeared to be interested.

"Far! Princess, I often wonder how Paris and Thors can be in the same world! Before our troubles we used to live in Paris a portion of the year. At least I did, while my poor husband traveled abroad. He had a hobby, you know, poor man! Humanity was his hobby. I have always found that men who seek to do good to their fellows are never thanked. There is a little gratitude in the individual, but none in the race."

"None," answered Etta absently. "It was so with the Charity league," went on the countess volubly. She paused and looked around with her feeble eyes.

"We are all friends," she went on, "so it is safe to mention the Charity league, is it not?"

"No," answered Steinmetz from the fireplace, "no, madame. There is only one friend to whom you may safely mention that."

"None," answered Etta absently.

"None," answered Etta absently.

RUMORS GROWING

Peace Talk at St. Petersburg
Has Had a Sudden Revival.

TALK IS PRONOUNCED

Even in Midst of Terrorist Sensation
the Rumors Are of a Character
That Will Not Down.

It Is Said That Emperor William
Has Sent a Personal Representative to the Czar.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 18.—Even in the midst of the excitement caused by the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius there has been a noticeable and sudden revival of the peace talk. It is even intimated that Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia is the bearer of personal representations from Emperor William on this subject. While it is positively known that the question of peace was discussed between Emperor Nicholas and Prince Frederick Leopold yesterday, it is impossible to ascertain what, if any, conclusions were reached.

The assassination of Grand Duke Sergius undoubtedly was the work of the fighting organization of the Socialistic Revolutionary party, which condemned and executed Count Bobrikoff, governor general of Finland, and MM. Siplaguine and Von Plehve, ministers of the interior. It is regarded as a direct challenge from the terrorists to the autocracy and a revival of the famous duel between the Nicholas and the government twenty-five years ago.

Opinions differ as to the political effect of the tragedy, some inclining to the view that the killing of a member of the imperial family may cause Nicholas II. to revive a period of reaction; but this opinion is not generally shared.

The murder of Grand Duke Sergius just at this time, when the forces of Liberalism were again in the supremacy and when the summoning of the zemsky sobor was assured, meets with universal reprobation even by extreme Social Democrats, who denounce the crime as strongly as do the Liberals and the Conservatives. According to a high authority, the decision had been already taken officially to proclaim the zemsky sobor on Feb. 22.

Russian Raiding Force.

General Oku's Headquarters, Feb. 18.—A Russian raiding force of 15,000 cavalry, 500 infantry and twenty guns moved south on both banks of the Liao river to Siaohepo on the Hun river, directly west of Liao Yang, Thursday, and then began gradually retreating to the northward. The force is now twelve miles northwest of Siaohepo and three miles east of the Liao. The Japanese pursued and inflicted damage on the raiders. The Russians on General Oku's front are inactive.

Strike Extending.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 18.—The strike is extending. About 2,400 employees of the Nevsky Thread works have joined in the movement. The strikers now total about 30,000. The temper of the men is more threatening and Cossacks and other troops have again been drafted into the city. The police are arresting the ring leaders. The employers regard the situation as critical.

MISS WILLARD'S STATUE

The First Woman to Find a Place in Statuary Hall.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The senate passed the bill appropriating $9,940,000 for the District of Columbia, and the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill, carrying $2,156,000. The district bill had been before the senate for several days and had been much debated. The diplomatic bill received the attention of the senate for only twelve minutes and was passed without discussion. A special feature of the day was the acceptance of the statue of Frances E. Willard, the distinguished temperance advocate, which has been placed in Statuary hall in the national capitol by the state of Illinois. Notwithstanding there are about forty pedestals in the hall, the statue of Miss Willard is the first of a woman to find a place there, and the members of her sex showed their appreciation of the compliment by turning out in large numbers to listen to the eulogistic addresses made in connection with the ceremony.

An hour was spent in secret session in an ineffectual effort to determine the admissibility as evidence of Judge Sawyer's statement before a committee of the house.

The senate terminated its controversy with the house over the amendment constraining the provision in the Dingley law relative to the drawback on imported wheat by receding from the amendment inserted in the agricultural appropriation bill as it passed the senate.

In order to facilitate action at this session on the statehood bill the house passed a resolution sending that measure as amended by the senate directly into conference without an opportunity being afforded to debate it. The naval appropriation bill was further discussed.

Prominent Men Testify.

Commodore Somerville Nicholson, of the United States Navy, in a letter from 187 R St., N. W., Washington, D. C., says:

"Your Peruna has been and is now used by so many of my friends and acquaintances as a sure cure for catarrh that I am convinced of its curative qualities and I unhesitatingly recommend it to all persons suffering from that complaint."—S. Nicholson.

The highest men in our nation have given Peruna a strong endorsement. Men of all classes and stations are equally represented.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

CORRUPTION CHARGES

Will Be Investigated by West Virginia Legislature.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 18.—As a climax to a series of sensations in the West Virginia legislature, charges were made by senators on the floor of the senate which may result in the impeachment of Gov. White. The charges were made principally by Senator Caldwell, who was "slapped over the face," to use his own expression by the special message of Gov. White to the senate on Wednesday. This is the message which was returned to the governor to supply a newspaper clipping which concerned his political backers, Gov.-elect Dawson and United States Marshal Elliott.

The bomb was exploded in the senatorial cauldron when Senator Colcord insisted on calling up his resolution requiring an investigation of the charges contained in the governor's message, which was delivered to the senate and returned by that body on Wednesday. The resolution was finally adopted after being amended to provide for an investigation to probe corruption charges.

In addition a resolution was offered to include in investigation charges of an alleged anti-election deal with the Standard Oil company by the Republicans, which could not be substantiated in evidence adduced before the investigating committee which closed its session here last week. Senator Caldwell in making his charges on the floor said Gov. White was guilty of dividing with the secretary of state the fees of the latter office in consideration of appointment. Gov.-elect Dawson is the present incumbent. Caldwell also said a letter had been sent out from New York by a Charleston attorney offering to secure a reduction in license tax on foreign corporations in consideration of half of the decrease secured by legislation. He asserted that White and Dawson were back of this letter. All of these charges together with the charges that Senators had accepted bribes to oppose or advocate pending legislation will come under the review of the investigating committee.

SERGIUS IS SLAIN

Most Hated Man In Russia
Falls a Mangled Victim of a Bomb.

DEED OF A TERRORIST

A Single Man, Agent of the Dread
"Fighting Group" of Revolutionaries, Did the Deed.

As Grand Duke Sergius Was Driving
From the Kremlin He Was Blown to Pieces.

Moscow, Feb. 18.—Within the walls of the far famed Kremlin palace and almost underneath the historical tower from which Ivan the Terrible watched the heads of his enemies falling beneath the ax on the famous Red Square, and within a stone's throw of the great bell of Moscow, the Grand Duke Sergius, uncle and brother-in-law of Emperor Nicholas, and the chief of the reactionaries, met a terrible death yesterday afternoon. The deed was committed by a single terrorist, who threw beneath the carriage of the grand duke a bomb charged with the same high power explosive which wrought Minister Von Plehve's death. The missile was packed with nails and fragments of iron and its explosion tore the imperial victim's body to ghastly fragments, which strewed the snow for yards around. Every window in the great, lofty facade of the palace of justice was shattered and bits of iron were imbedded deeply in the walls of the arsenal, a hundred yards away.

The assassin belongs to the noted "Fighting Group" of the Socialist Revolutionary party, which has removed other prominent officials and long since passed sentence of death upon Grand Duke Sergius. The grand duke knew that he stood in the shadow of death. He was the recipient of repeated warnings, and elaborate precautions were taken to ensure his safety; but all the resources of the gendarmie, secret police and soldiers proved unavailing against an attempt almost exactly duplicating the procedure that caused the death of Minister Von Plehve last July.

It was the irony of fate that Sergius, after taking refuge in his country villa during the strike troubles of a month ago and later seeking even more secure shelter in the palace within the Kremlin walls, should be killed while proceeding to the governor general's palace beyond the walls, and which he had abandoned to enable the police to better protect him.

When the carriage of the grand duke was in front of the courts of justice, where the walls of the triangle approach form a narrow entrance to the Nikolsky gate, a man clad in workman's attire stepped forward from the sidewalk and threw a bomb which he had concealed beneath his coat. A terrible explosion followed and a hail of iron pelted the grim stone walls of the arsenal and courts of justice.

A thick cloud of smoke, snow and debris arose. When it had cleared a ghastly sight was presented. On the snow lay fragments of the body of Grand Duke Sergius, mingled with the wreck of the carriage. The grand duke's head had been torn from his body and reduced to a shapeless pulp and the trunk and limbs were frightfully mangled. A finger bearing a rich seal ring was found lying several yards away. Only a few fragments of cloth indicated that the body had been once clothed. The coachman lay moaning with pain beside a deep hole in the pavement. The horses, dragging the front wheels of the carriage, had dashed off, maddened with pain, to sink dying before they reached the gate.

The sound of the explosion was heard throughout the city and even beyond the river. A crowd began to assemble and handled the grim evidences of the tragedy, while they discussed the affair in awestruck voices. Police officials rapidly gathered, but before anything could be done toward collecting the scattered fragments of the body, Grand Duchess Elizabeth drove up in an open carriage. She had dropped her work at the headquarters of the Red Cross and sped to the scene of the crime without waiting to don her outer wraps. She broke down entirely at the sight and dropped to her knees, sobbing bitterly. After a few minutes she was led away. Then a stretcher was brought and, covered with a plain soldier's cloak, the remains of Sergius were borne to the Choudoff cloister, where officials and members of the grand duke's suite had assembled.

Children especially are fond of dainties and the housekeeper must look carefully to their food.

As good cake can be made only with good eggs, so also a cake that is healthful as well as dainty must be raised with a pure and perfect baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable in the preparation of the highest quality of food. It imparts that peculiar lightness, sweetness and flavor noticed in the finest cake, biscuit, doughnuts, crusts, etc., and what is more important, renders the food wholesome and agreeable to young and old.

The assassin was thrown to the ground and stunned by the force of the explosion, but he quickly arose and ran toward the gate, attempting to escape. His haste and the blood streaming from his face where he had been wounded by fragments of the bomb, attracted the attention of a sergeant of police, who seized him before he could draw his revolver. The man did not deny his crime, but on the contrary gloried in its success. He expressed his satisfaction that he had been able to kill the grand duke without involving the latter's innocent wife. He avowed his membership in the social revolutionary organization, but refused to give his name, and at the jail his papers were found to be forged.

Lodz in a Ferment.
Lodz, Russian Poland, Feb. 18.—The news of the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius created a deep impression here. The air is filled with disturbing rumors. The mobilization of troops is hourly expected. If it occurs trouble is believed to be certain to follow.

Practical Socialism.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 18.—Kansas' desire for an oil refinery of its own was realized when Governor E. W. Hoch signed the bill appropriating $200,000 for the erection and maintenance of a state plant, which was passed for the avowed purpose of fighting the Standard Oil company.

Getting Over Its Huff.

Chanute, Kan., Feb. 18.—The Standard Oil company is again buying oil in the Chanute district after refusing to take any for one week. Reports from Independence, Peru and other places indicate that the Standard is buying there also.

Mysterious Disappearance.

New York, Feb. 18.—Lieutenant Arthur Reginald French, aged twenty-six years, the son of Lord DeFreyn, an Irish baron, who arrived in this city from England more than a month ago, has disappeared and Mr. Olive-Bayley, the British consul, the entire New York police department, and a private detective agency, are putting forth efforts to find him.

Sprung a Sensation.

Huntington, W. Va., Feb. 18.—An injunction was granted by Judge John B. Wilkinson restraining the officials of the Triple State Gas company from merging that company with the United States Natural Gas company, recently organized for consolidating the Triple State company and the Kanawha Gas company of Charleston and extending the mains of the new company to Portsmouth, Ohio, and other points. Sensational allegations are made, among others that the officials of the company have conspired to weaken the gas supply and consequently decrease the value of stock.

A Poem for Today

AN OLD SWEETHEART OF MINE

By James Whitcomb Riley

Someone who cons at evening o'er an album all alone,
And muses on the faces of the friends that he has known,
So I turn the leaves of fancy till, in shadowy design,
I find the smiling features of an old sweetheart of mine.

The lamplight seems to glimmer with a flicker of surprise
As I turn it low to rest me of the daze in my eyes;
And I light my pipe in silence save a sigh that seems to yoke
Its fate with my tobacco and to vanish into smoke.

'Tis a fragrant retrospection—for the loving thoughts that start
Into being are like perfumes from the blossoms of the heart;
And to dream the old dreams over is a luxury divine—
When my truant fancies wander with that old sweetheart of mine.

Though I hear, beneath my study, like a fluttering of wings,
The voices of my children and the mother as she sings,
I feel no twinge of conscience to deny me any theme
When Care has cast her anchor in the harbor of a dream.

In fact, to speak in earnest, I believe it adds a charm
To spice the good a trifle with a little dust of harm,
For I find an extra flavor in memory's mellow wine
That makes me drink the deeper to that old sweetheart of mine.

A face of lily beauty and a form of airy grace
Floats out of my tobacco as the gent from the vase;
And I thrill beneath the glances of a pair of azure eyes
As glowing as the summer and as tender as the skies.

And again I feel the pressure of the slender little hand
As we used to talk together of the future we had planned—
When I should be a poet, and with nothing else to do
But write the tender verses that she set the music to.

When we should live together in a cozy little cot,
Hid in a nest of roses with a fairy garden spot,
Where the vines were ever fruited and the weather ever fine,
And the birds were ever singing for that old sweetheart of mine.

When I should be her lover forever and a day,
And she my faithful sweetheart till the golden hair was gray;
And we should be so happy that when either's lips were dumb
They would not smile in heaven till the other's kiss had come.

But—ah! my dream is broken by a step upon the stair,
And the door is softly opened and my wife is standing there!
Yet with eagerness and rapture all my visions I resign
To greet the living presence of that old sweetheart of mine.

THE national government is renewing its investigation of the methods of the Standard Oil Trust with increased vigor. Commissioner Garfield will conduct the investigation and when he is through, he will know whether or not this great corporation is violating the Sherman antitrust law.

A PURE food law is one of the needs of Indiana. There ought to be some way prevent to the sale of the adulterated foodstuffs now placed on the market. Much of this adulterated goods is absolutely injurious to health. Some other states have pure food laws and we understand they serve a good purpose. Why should not Indiana have such a law?

FEW men were better known throughout the country than was General Lew Wallace. He won fame as a soldier and as a diplomat, but it was through his writings that he became most famous. When he gave to the world "Ben-Hur" he made for himself a name that will last. No book produced in modern times has had a wider sale or takes a higher rank than this one. Indiana is proud of the achievements of General Wallace and cherishes the honor that he has brought to his native state.

THE old line fire insurance companies are still fighting hard the legislation proposed in behalf of mutual insurance companies. Their opposition is no surprise. They don't want their business of insuring property at unreasonably high rates interfered with. They are having their agents write members of the Legislature that the measure should be defeated. But representative business men, manufacturers and farmers quite generally look with favor upon the proposed legislation. They know they have been paying too much for their insurance.

SOME special bills have been introduced in the Legislature to reimburse certain office holders in the northern part of the state, who had public funds in banks that failed. Why should the state be called upon to pay these losses? It is presumed that each of these officers gave bond for the faithful performance of official duty and to protect the tax payers in case of loss. It was unfortunate to be sure that these men had public funds in banks that were insecure. So is it unfortunate for the individual who happens to have money on deposit in such a bank, but the individual must stand the loss himself. The taxpayers of the state are under no obligations to pay these losses.

HOOSIER PLAY.

The Gentleman From Indiana To Be Played At Indianapolis Soon.

Booth Tarkington's great story, "The Gentleman from Indiana" has been dramatized and will be played at English's Opera House, Indianapolis during the week beginning February 27th. People throughout the state who have read the story will at once be interested in the play. The indications are that an unusually large number of Hoosier people will visit the capital city and witness the play.

This story has been widely read and brought its author into prominence. "The Gentleman from Indiana" is a Hoosier story written by a Hoosier author and therefore Indiana people have taken more than ordinary interest in it. The author has envied plot, dialogue and scene with an atmosphere which is as delicious and as redolent of sentiment, pathos and human nature as "Alabama," and yet carrying a story brimful of human interest. The play has been staged under the personal direction of Mr. Tarkington and hence the atmosphere which the author has created in plot and dialogue is carried in even the minutest details of the scenic effects.

An excellent cast has been chosen in which Edward Morgan takes the leading part, characterizing John Harkless, the editor of the Carlow County Herald, who plays such an important part in the story. The entire cast has been carefully chosen.

Indiana towns adjacent to Indianapolis have always been loyal supporters of plays by Indiana authors, and many delegations will go to Indianapolis to see "The Gentleman from Indiana."

The Midgets.

Maj. and Mrs. N. G. Winner who will be at the Gold Mine all next week, will surely attract a great deal of attention. He is only 36 inches in height and weighs 40 pounds. He is 35 years of age and she is 27. They are said to be intelligent, well informed and agreeable, and of a sunny disposition. Major Winner is a member of the K. of P. order and is doubtless the smallest Knight of Pythias in the world. The Major and his wife have traveled a great deal and talk interestingly of their many experiences. During their stay in this city they will be quartered at the Hotel Jonas.

Omission.

In our account of the Merchants Associations annual banquet we inadvertently omitted mention of the excellent talk on "Store Decoration" by Fred Able who is conceded to be an expert decorator.

Highest Yet.

I. G. Saltmarsh has established a new bowling record. On Friday he made a score of 214 which is decidedly the best made here.

Night Police.

Peter Senseback, the merchant police, has been sworn in as city night policeman to serve until the vacancy made by the resignation of Marvin Deputy can be permanently filled.

Mose Love, the cabman had the misfortune to lose one of his horses last night.

Tom Casey, night clerk at the post-office, left Thursday for Sylvester, Georgia, to spend about a month. Voss Cox will substitute for him during his absence.

Revival Meetings.

Rev. Taylor preached at the Holiness Christian church last night from Jeremiah 17-9. "The heart is deceitful above all things, and who can know it?" "My text is a picture of the heart of that man who by strong drink, greasy cards, a few dice, some oaths has thrown his character on the altar, sacrificed all to passion, habit, appetite: a picture of the heart of mother's daughter who left a happy christian home, sacrificed a mother's love, has thrown herself away, and to-night with tangled hair, red eyes, thinly clad, with boisterous laugh, half drunk and reeking off to hell: a picture of the heart unregenerated, a heart untouched by the spirit of God. Whether that heart belongs to a Sunday school girl, a girl from the slums, a steward in the church, or a man in the saloon, that heart which has not been born again, God says is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked. The devil is not your worst enemy. Your worst enemy is your own heart. Were it possible to kill the devil and disorganize hell there are men and women in this congregation who have enough of the devil in their hearts to organize a new hell and set a new devil to work. You need a new heart. You need to be born again."

Three services on Sunday, 10:30 a. m., 3:30 and 7:30 p. m. The Lord is giving us gracious victory. Souls are being saved at every service. Salvation is of the Lord. Come early and enjoy the song service and hear the Happy Man.

The Best Physic.

When you want a physic that is mild and gentle, easy to take and certain to act, always use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Guaranteed Attraction.

"A Trip to Egypt," C. Herbert Kerr's latest contribution to the stage, which will be seen at the opera house on Friday Feb. 24, evening, is a musical comedy throughout and is reported to be just what the people like to see at prices that will attract everybody. Outside of the box seats the prices will not be above 75 cents; but for this money the manager assures the people that they will see a production for which $1.50 and $2.00 is generally asked. When they read the array of stars and good things that come with "A Trip to Egypt," theatrical patrons will be pleasantly surprised.

Sick Headache.
This distressing ailment results from a disordered condition of the stomach. All that is needed to effect a cure is dose or two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. In fact, the attack may be warded off, or greatly lessened in severity, by taking a dose of these tablets as soon as the first symptom of an attack appears. Sold by C. W. Milhous.

DO THEIR OWN MARKETING.

Baltimore Society Women Are Good Judges of Food Products.

"It is a recognized fact that the Baltimore society women goes to market as regularly as she attends church, and in many instances her face is much more familiar where the good things for the inner man are to be found than it is at the place of worship. Although she may have an excellent housekeeper and a retinue of servants, yet mildy prefers to personally select the meats and vegetables for the family table."

On Tuesday and Friday mornings of each week Lexington market is the Mecca for many women who are members of the Monumental City's wealthiest and most aristocratic families, and a long line of carriages such as might be found where a reception was in progress is strung out along Lexington and Eutaw streets.

As early as 10 o'clock the woman who has the night before been the hostess of some brilliant function alights from her carriage, usually at the Eutaw street end of the market, sometimes accompanied by her butler, but more frequently she enters the market place alone. Going from one stall to another, testing the youth of the poultry, the tenderness of the beef, the firmness of the tomato and the freshness of the fruit, she brushes shoulders with the wife of the poorest laborer, for this is a market patronized by all classes. Usually her purchases are sent to the carriage, which is left in charge of a coachman.—Leslie's Weekly.

WOMEN IN BUSINESS.

A Strict Regard For Discipline Produces the Best Results.

As a general rule woman becomes efficient in business in proportion as she can lay aside the peculiarities and prerogatives of her sex and become to all intents and purposes masculine. This is not said in mitigation of the obvious truth that indiscriminate contact with men in employment tends to unsex woman or in ignorance of the other fact that in many pursuits the feminine equipment fits its possessor for a finer type of service than most men can reach. But, whenever an employee's relationship to the work becomes complicated with the question of her sex, then there are friction, waste and an impairment of availability.

The moment that the business of an office or store has to be conducted on the plan of a solace there is an end to plain speech and quick work. It is not enough that a woman can do the same work as a man; she must be amenable without friction to the same rules, discipline and direct method as a man. Otherwise she stands in her own light; otherwise she will find herself purchasing gallantry and palaver at the cost of better pay.—Portland Oregonian.

KITCHEN HELPS.

Bedticking, not too heavy, makes excellent dish towels, as it has no lint. Wash thoroughly before hemming.

Half a lemon placed in the water in which dish towels and kitchen cloths are soaked is said to sweeten them wonderfully.

Dip a cloth in kerosene oil and rub it all over the metal teakettle. Let stand half an hour and wash off with soap suds. Polish with newspaper and baking soda. Do this weekly.

Conveniently near the range in the kitchen should be placed the sink and the dresser, not too far from the table and range. You have then the principal articles so placed that the labor will be much lightened.

System In Housekeeping.

One of the first things for the woman struggling for system to do is to try to get the work of her house in perspective. This is not easy. It is a truism that women are lacking in a sense of proportion, and it is not a simple matter for one of them to get herself mentally far enough from her work to decide the relative importance of each item. But she must do it if she is to develop her system of work in the right way. She should mentally range her duties in order and divide them into what must be done and what may be done if circumstances permit. The first list will be long enough, but the second will exceed it. The chief trouble with housekeepers is that they get the items of the two lists mingled and confused.—Harper's Bazar.

Cream Cheese.
To make delicious cream cheese after an English dairy recipe take a quart of sweet milk, adding a cupful of cream if a rich cheese is desired, and add a few drops of liquid rennet. This rennet may be had in little tabloids also. Place the milk in a warm corner for twenty-four hours. Throw in a little salt and stir well. Wring out in ice water a napkin or linen cloth and put the cheese in it, tying up tightly. Hang this up to drain. Change the napkins at night and leave hanging. The cheese is ready to eat in twenty-four hours.

Steamed Ham.
A small ham may be steamed instead of boiled. Prepare the ham in the usual manner by soaking it in cold water for eighteen hours and afterward scrubbing and trimming it. Put it in the steamer over boiling water and cook, allowing half an hour to each pound of ham. The reason ham is so often indigestible is that it is underdone. In Vienna hospitals, where great attention is paid to the dietary, ham, boiled and baked until it falls to pieces under the fork, is given patients convalescing from typhoid fever.

Afraid of Strong Medicines.
Many people suffer for years from rheumatic pains, and prefer to do it rather than take the strong medicines usually given for rheumatism, not knowing that quick relief from pain may be had simply by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm and without taking any medicine internally. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Insanity, Death or Health?

No. 2807 Locust Street, St. Louis, Mo., March 29, 1908.

I was a victim of sleeplessness and extreme nervousness for eighteen months, unable to get a proper night's rest and feeling tired and worn out continually. I was easily irritated and hysterical at the slightest provocation, but Wine of Cardui gave me great relief. Within a week after I began to use it I had my first real good night's rest. My appetite was soon restored, my general system toned up and nervousness became a thing of the past.

I am so pleased to acknowledge the great curative power of your health giving medicine and gladly endorse it.

WINE OF CARDUI

We want to call your attention to the complete and immediate relief Mrs. Best secured by taking Wine of Cardui. Within a week after she began taking Wine of Cardui, Mrs. Best had her first proper night's rest for eighteen months. Her restlessness was caused by nervousness and hysteria, a medicine to soothe a woman's nerves. Nervousness and hysteria are warnings of the approach of insanity and if relief is not secured the end can only be the asylum or the grave. With such an outlook as this before her, no suffering woman can reasonably refuse to give Wine of Cardui a trial. It brings a cure that thousands of women have sought for in vain. Will you secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today and start treatment?

ADOPTED THE BILL

House Concurs In Senate's View of the Deadly Cigarette.

WITHOUT AMENDMENT

The Senate's Bill to Prohibit Manufacture or Sale of Cigarettes Went Right Through.

Strenuous Efforts to Amend It to Death Proved to Be Ineffectual.

Indianapolis, Feb. 18.—The legislature held a short session today, adjourning at noon. Considerable business was transacted, however, during the forenoon. In order to expedite business in the house, Representative Sayre introduced a resolution limiting debate on a subject by any member to ten minutes. This was deemed necessary, as some of the members have acquired the habit of making long and useless speeches that consume too much valuable time. The house and senate are taking the codification commission bills piecemeal and will probably adopt two or three of them.

The reform element in the Indiana legislature has the cigarette smokers, tobacco trusts and retail dealers on the run, as it now seems highly probable that the house will pass the senate bill prohibiting the sale, manufacture or smoking of cigarettes within the state. The house adopted the senate bill intact after a long debate, in which fully a third of the members spoke. Every effort to amend was defeated after a hard fight. The plea of many that the bill is an invasion of personal privilege and that because of its drastic features it will be a dead letter in the law books, was insufficient to turn the tide which seems to have set in strongly in favor of the proposed reform.

The bill provides a penalty for anyone having a cigarette in his or her possession. Strong objection was made to this feature on the ground that an adult has a perfect right to smoke a cigarette if he so desires. Several members who held out for this principle favored a law prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to minors.

Representative Boyd, who declared vehemently that he never used tobacco in any shape, offered a resolution making the bill apply to minors, penalizing them for smoking and those who offer cigarettes for sale. Representative Bosson of this city made a strong appeal for this amendment, declaring that some of the Indiana members of congress and many men prominent in public life in the state are cigarette smokers. He held that the legislature should not try to conform them to its standard. Representative Springer assailed the amendment, declaring that the amendments were offered for the purpose of defeating the bill. "If you say that my amendments were made for the purpose of defeating the bill, you say what is absolutely untrue," shouted Representative Boyd.

On motion of Representative Gough the Boyd amendment was tabled by a vote of 53 to 42. Representative Mountz then moved that the bill be advanced to engrossment. Representative Dausman, explaining his vote, said the bill was the work of a crank. Senator Parks, its author, was in the house at the time.

During the debate the opponents of the bill insisted that the senate passed it as a joke, which caused Representative Sayre to remark that he was in favor of repeating the joke. Many ministers and reformers were in the lobby throughout the session. A strong fight will be made to kill the bill on third reading, but it is believed by its friends that they will have votes to spare.

The regular practitioners, who are fighting the movement of the osteopaths to secure recognition from the state, held the winning cards in the senate when the bill giving the osteopaths one member of the state board of medical registration was considered. Senator Ganiard offered an amendment providing that all osteopaths now practicing in the state shall be licensed and that in the future they shall meet the requirements prescribed by the board. This was defeated. The bill, as it was advanced, provides that all osteopaths shall pass the examination arranged and shall meet the minimum requirements for education.

The Sherrick anti-tax ferret bill was favorably reported. It permits the auditor of state to investigate mortgages given by Indiana people on property outside the state to see if they are properly listed for taxation. The Slack compulsory voting machine bill met the fate of the one introduced in the house by Representative Branch, being amended to leave it optional with counties whether or not they shall purchase machines.

Senator Slack's initiative and referendum bill for public consideration of municipal questions was favorably reported. The senate used the ax on Representative Dausman's bill to exempt forest tracts of ten acres from taxation. One section would have exempted large tracts of land reserved by individuals or corporations for forestry purposes. The bill was prepared by Secretary Freeman of the state board of forestry.

Startling But True.

People the world over were horrified on learning of the burning of a Chicago theater in which nearly six hundred people lost their lives, yet more than five times this number or over 3,000 people died from pneumonia in Chicago during the same year, with scarcely a passing notice. Every one of these cases of pneumonia resulted from a cold and could have been prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A great many who had every season to fear pneumonia have ward off by the prompt use of this remedy. The following is an instance of this sort: "Too much cannot be said in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and especially for colds and influenza. I know that it cured my daughter, Laura, of a severe cold, and I believed saved her life when she was threatened with pneumonia." W. D. Wilcox, Logan, New York. Sold by C. W. Milhous.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy The Mother's Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children, for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

THE RAILWAY BILL.

Shippers Are Confident They Will Get a Commission.

Indianapolis, Feb. 18.—The railway commission bill will probably be handed down by the speaker by the middle of next week for final action. It is now in the hands of the house railroad committee, which will report it favorably. Unless there are a number of amendments it will have easy sailing; for then it will not have to go back to the senate for concurrence. Secretary Riley of the Shippers' association, which has been pushing the commission movement for more than a year, said today that he has hopes that the house will adopt the senate bill intact, inasmuch as the shippers and roads have agreed and the senate passed it without a dissenting vote. It is very probable, however, that it will not pass a hundred men without some amendment being tacked on. The friends of the bill are especially anxious that no changes be made with reference to the salary of the members, which is now fixed at $4,000 a year. The salary of the secretary is to be $2,500 a year, according to the senate bill. The shippers and roads are anxious to have these provisions stand so there will be no trouble in getting high-class men for the positions.

Newton Booth Tarkington, "Gentleman from Indiana," who is now in New York, indirectly took part in the discussion of the anti-cigarette bill. The amendment introduced by Representative Fletcher to prohibiting the chewing of tobacco the same as prof-hibiting the sale and manufacture of cigarettes, was prepared by Tarkington and sent to Fletcher. "Why not stir the animals up?" was Tarkington's query. Although Tarkington is regarded as a "good fellow" and is known as a confirmed cigarette smoker, his amendment was not taken kindly by many of the men who favored the bill, and they promptly killed it.

The hard fight made by Senator Wickwire for the enactment of an inheritance tax law will not count for anything unless he can get a similar bill through the house within the next few days. Attorney General Miller has informed him that such measures must originate in the house and not in the senate. Mr. Wickwire will immediately introduce the bill in the lower branch, but the chances are that it will not get through, as new bills stand but little show now, especially when there is such a difference of opinion as there is on the question of inheritance tax. Senator Wickwire is a holdover member, however, and will have an opportunity of taking up the matter two years hence.

Frank Doran of Laporte, who will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for auditor of state next year, is here visiting the members of the legislature. He was a candidate in 1902, when David E. Sherrick was first nominated. Doran is a good hustler and is out to win this time. The Tenth district will again have plenty of candidates as John Dyer of Hammond is a candidate for treasurer of state and Judge U. Z. Wiley of Fowler will be a candidate for renomination for appellate court judge. However, the Tenth is the banner Republican district and its workers say they are entitled to a lot of recognition.

"Jack" Osborne, a well-known Evansville Republican politician, was here today. He called on Governor Hanly and talked over the matter of holding a special election in the First district to elect a successor to Senator-elect Hemenway. The latter will tender his resignation, to take effect March 4, when he will be sworn in as a member of the upper legislative branch. It is probable the special election will be held some time in May. Osborne and many of the machine politicians at Evansville favor G. A. Cunningham, district chairman, for congress.

The house, later yesterday afternoon, advanced the Sunday baseball bill by a vote of fifty-three to twenty-nine. The bill merely seeks to repeal a section of a law enacted in 1885 prohibiting Sunday games for admission. It is not strictly observed in any of the larger cities except Indianapolis.

On Washington's Birthday the University of Pennsylvania will confer the degree of LL.D. upon the emperor of Germany and the president of the United States.

COLONIAL DWELLING.

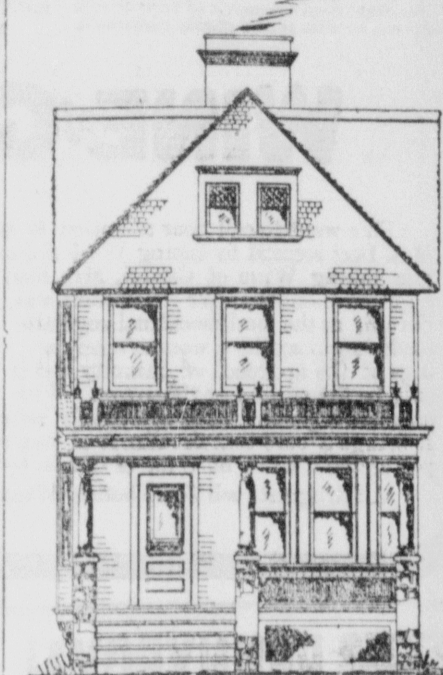

Inexpensive, Yet Convenient and Roomy—Cost $2,500.

[Copyright, 1904, by Stanley A. Dennis, 22 Broadway, New York.]

We herewith present an up to date colonial design and plan for a $2,500 home containing every modern improvement and convenience, including a hot air furnace. A cellar runs under the entire house, with stone walls, cemented floor, coal bins, etc.

The frame is of hemlock lumber and timber, and the walls are sheathed, plastered, sided and shingled. The main roof is covered with heavy dimension cypress shingles, and the columns, rails and newels on the piazza roof and deck are of yellow pine, finished in the natural wood.

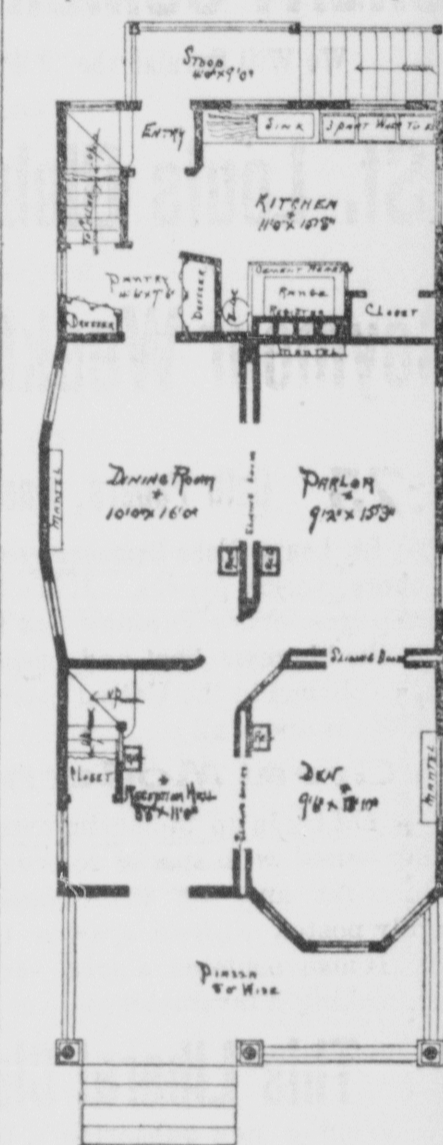

The floors are of narrow yellow pine tongued and grooved and finished in the natural wood. The interior walls are plastered with hard white patent

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Engineer Elrod is unable to be on duty for a few days on account of sickness.

R. S. McVeigh, division freight agent for the B. & O. S.W., was here this morning.

H. A. Larkin, contracting agent for the Seaboard Air Line was here from Cincinnati yesterday.

Fred Burnett, traveling passenger agent for the Santa Fe was here yesterday in the interest of his system.

Indian Springs.

A decision of the supreme court of Indiana has reopened the famous cases involving the title to the Indian Springs property in Martin County, now owned by John R. Walsh, the millionaire Chicago railroad man, owner of the Southern Indiana railroad. It has been Mr. Walsh's intention to build a fine hotel at Indian Springs, and it is supposed that the lawsuits pending have caused a postponement of the hotel. What effect the recent decision will have no one knows. The case has been pending for a longtime.

Bedford Wants It.

Since the bill to appropriate $500,000 to build a new insane hospital in the southern part of Indiana, has passed the house, the following appeared in a Bedford paper: "This is the institution that should be located in Bedford and if the people want it they have just as much chance of getting it as any other town, but they will have to get busy and work for it. I will not come without an effort."

Such a statement as this should only serve as an excitant to our citizens and stimulate them to increased action to get this institution for our city.

New Train Rumor.

It is said that there is to be a 7 a. m. train put on at Bedford on the Southern Indiana to run between Bedford and Westport. If this train is put on it will afford better connection here to and from Indianapolis for people on this line west of Seymour. As it now is there is only one train each way between Seymour and Westport and in addition to this train would be very beneficial to all of the points on this line between Bedford and Westport.

Huxter Wagon Fire.

A rather unusual fire occurred at the home of Mr. Meyers, who resides four miles southeast of Waymansville Thursday. Popenhouse Bros., conduct a general store at Waymansville and they run a huxter wagon in connection with their business. Thursday Wm. Popenhouse was out with the wagon and had a considerable cargo of merchandise when he stopped at the home of Mr. Meyers for dinner. While at dinner the wagon caught fire from a small oil stove that was in the vehicle and the entire load of merchandise was destroyed together with the wagon with the exception of the running gears. The loss is estimated at $150.—Columbus Herald.

200 Pictures.

If you went to St. Louis Exposition last season you saw the greatest exposition the world has produced. You were very much interested in what you saw. A review of what you saw there, well told and illustrated, would be most interesting. Next Wednesday evening at Armory Hall, Mr. C. Oliver Powers, the noted lecturer, will exhibit 200 pictures, the same to be thrown on a large canvas illustrative of his lecture on the World's Fair. If you never saw the fair this is the best opportunity you will ever have. If you were there you will be anxious to hear this illustrated review of it.

Will Be Appealed.

It seems that the case of Sadie Jonas Hirschburg against Nellie M. Jonas and the Medora State bank, which was decided here by Judge Bear a few days ago will not even rest now. In this case the plaintiff Hirschburg and defendant bank received decisions, and now the case will be appealed to the Supreme Court. It has been in litigation for the past few years.—Columbus Republican.

Uncle Daniel.

A high-class comedy drama, picturing New England life, is being rehearsed and will be produced sometime in March for the benefit of the Modern Woodmen team. The cast has been selected from the best talent obtainable in the city. All the strong parts are in the hands of experienced persons and a first class performance may be expected.

The Minister's Son.

"The Minister's Son" is devoid of the usual traveled path of rural dramas, seeking effects by other means than the exploiting of live stock and kindred devices which have grown tiresome through familiarity. The simple way and naturalness of the characters in the play, helped along by a clever company, make this production one that will linger long and pleasantly in your memory. W. B. Patton will be seen in his original characterization of "Simon Ray" at the opera house Feb. 22nd.

The Lecture.

The lecture "The Minister's Son" at the Central Christian church was one worth hearing, those who were not there missed one of the best numbers of the lecture course. His subject was "Kings and Queens, Crowned and Uncrowned." The lecturer, Dr. Harvey Smith McCowan, was suffering from a very severe cold, yet he held the closest attention of his audience.

The March Pearson's.

Aside from its usual assortment of bright short stories, the March number of Pearson's Magazine includes eight special articles, some of which are particularly timely.

The most important of these is "The Poisons We Eat in Food," by Dr. H. W. Wiley, Chief of the Department of Chemistry, U. S. Bureau of Agriculture. In this article Dr. Wiley tells the results of the experiments carried on up to date with his famous volunteer "poison squad." McClusky, New York's ex-Chief of Detectives, tells of the stirring incidents in the career of George McClusky, the pupil and successor of the famous Inspector Byrnes. Kate Saint Maur's "Self-supporting Home," Elmer Porter's "Side Shows of Modern Business," Augustus Lerrok's "How a Big Newspaper is Conducted," and a fully illustrated account of the "Footprints of Beasts" complete the special articles.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Mid-Winter Outing.

The Pennsylvania railroad has planned a mid-winter outing to Florida and New Orleans for Mardi Gras. A booklet has been issued by the company descriptive of the trip, and detailing information that any one contemplating a trip South will appreciate. The objective points of most interest are Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Ormond and New Orleans. Other stops will be made at other places of commercial and historic interest. The trip will be made in a vestibuled Pullman train with all the modern equipments. This special train will leave Indianapolis Feb. 27, at 7 p. m. and passing through this city to Louisville according to schedule. The trip will cover eleven days. Here is a splendid opportunity to take a fine trip South. Consult J. W. Way the local ticket agent, about it.

Truest Tale Ever Told in Type.

The people of Seymour have the opportunity of selecting fuel from the largest variety of high grade coal ever placed on sale in the town. This coal is stored in our yards and may be inspected at ANY TIME by ANY ONE. All winter we have been advertising a longer list of better coals than any other dealer in this vicinity has to offer. Is it not more satisfactory to have a large number of different grades from which to select the kind of fuel you want, and at prices that are, if anything, lower than can be obtained elsewhere?

An "All Around" Coal

Is Black Creek lump from the Linton fields. We are recommending it to everyone who wants a coal that is a first class burner, a good heater, and that will cook and bake to perfection.

The price of Black Creek lump is surprisingly low, and our stock is large enough to supply all demands for it. All other grades are higher priced, but if you prefer them we will gladly fill your orders.

Simply telephone your orders and our delivery wagons "will do the rest."

DAINTINESS.

The Quality That Develops the Greatest Charm in Woman.

If any woman in the world were allowed three wishes she would wish chances to one demand beauty, wealth and cleverness. In this order are the good things of life valued by a woman. She would rather have a pretty face than anything else in the world. Next to that she wants the money wherewith to dress up to that pretty face, and, finally, for no reason in particular, she would like a little brains thrown in, just enough to make her clever at repartee and able to say nice things when they are needed and able to understand learned things when they are said.

Yet no amount of money in the world, no beautiful face, no cleverness, can make up for a lack of daintiness. Daintiness is the quality which in a man's eyes distinguishes a woman from the other sex and from all others of her own sex. It is the quality which gives her charm of manner, of voice and of appearance.

The most beautiful face in the world is not attractive to a man if it is surrounded by a mass of frizzled hair and wears a coarse expression. The cleverest speech that ever fell from a woman's lips would not interest a masculine listener or rouse his admiration if it were full of coarse phrases. No gown that was loud in color, bold in cut or untidy about the edges ever charmed a man, no matter if it were worth its weight in gold.

Daintiness is not something to be relegated to our maiden aunts. It is not to be confounded with primness and rosemary. It is the secret of feminine charm. The moment a woman loses her daintiness she loses her identity. She is no longer a woman, and, not being a man, she is a nonentity.—New York Press.

SOILED CARPETS.

How They May Be Cleaned and Their Colors Brightened.

Carpets which have grown dirty, have lost their color and have become dull and old looking can be nicely renovated in the following manner: Cut up into very small pieces about an ounce of soap and make it into a lather with a pint of boiling water; then add another quart of water and an ounce of borax.

Put this mixture on the range and bring it to a boil; then remove it, and when it is quite cool add an ounce of alcohol, one of ammonia and half an ounce of glycerin. Do but a small portion of the carpet at a time, and renovate it by wetting a clean flannel cloth in the above mixture and rubbing in vigorously until the spots are removed and the color brought back. Another way to bring the colors out may be used, and it may be accomplished in the ordinary sweeping if salt or dried tea leaves or a mixture of both be thickly sprinkled on the carpet an hour before the sweeping is begun. Use a good, stiff broom when sweeping, and the whole appearance of the carpet will be marvelously improved.

TOILET TIPS.

Pure almond oil will not hurt the most delicate skin.

Salt water acts as a tonic on the skin. Gently spatted on the face, it will help make the cuticle firm.

When massaging to plump the arms and throat, use cocoa butter. It is better and cheaper than cold cream.

Rose water, eight ounces, and tincture of benzoin, two drams, make one of the best skin tonics and whiteners.

Almond meal cleanses the face and leaves it in a smooth condition. Mix a small quantity with rose water and massage the whole face with this, afterward rinsing off with tepid water.

Hair can be curled constantly on the iron without injury, providing the iron is not too hot. If the hair is well curled immediately after shampooing the curl will remain in longer, the ordinary head of hair retaining it for a week.

Women Should Walk More.

Doctors who have closely studied the matter unhesitatingly assert that walking is the best exercise a woman can engage in for the development of her physical charms. The woman who is in the habit of taking a car ride every time she wishes to travel a few hundred yards is the one who has a bad complexion and complains of growing stout. She will tell you that her spine troubles her and that her feet are rheumatic; that she cannot walk—positively must not do so. If you are among the number, take a walk every day, give up the car habit unless you have some real riding to do or time is an object and every day walk a little farther. An excellent thing is exercise, and if you do not find walking agrees with you, then take to the gymnasium. After you have tried all the indoor physical exercises try the open air ones.

Women and Water.

"If nervous women would only drink more water they would not be so nervous," remarked a trained nurse the other day. "Nearly every physician will recommend a woman who is suffering from nervous prostration or nervous exhaustion to drink lots of water between meals, but many women who do not come under a doctor's care would feel better and look better if they would drink, say, a quart of water in the course of the day. Water seems to be a nerve food, like good butter. It has a distinctly soothing effect when sipped gradually, as one can test for herself. I am not enough of a scientist to be able to tell you the reasons why it does this, but water sipped slowly and gradually has some what the same quieting effect as deep breathing."

Don't wait until your blood is impoverished and you are sick and ailing, but take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It will positively drive out all impurities. 35 cents, Tea or Taffets. W. F. Peter Drug Co.
